

BIDS FOR NEW P. O. BUILDING

To Be Opened at Treasury
Bldg., Washington, Feb.
7—To Be Built In
Main Street.

Bids for the construction of the Bay St. Louis postoffice, on the site recently selected in Main street, will be officially advertised in next issue of The Echo, calling for sealed bids, to be opened at the Treasury department, Washington, February 7, 1935.

Bids will call for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for the construction of the proposed building.

Advertisement says, "attention is directed to the executive order, No. 6646, dated March 14, 1934, and the special condition of bidding set forth in the specification. Drawing and specifications not exceeding three sets may be obtained at the Treasury Department, Procurement Division, Public Works Branch, Washington, D. C., in the discretion of the assistant director of Procurement, Public Works Branch, by any general contractor, and provided a deposit of $15.00 is made for each set to secure its prompt return. Chambers of Commerce or other organizations who will guarantee to make them available for any sub-contractor or material firm interested. And to quantity of surveys, provided a deposit of $15.00 is made to assure its prompt return. Checks ordered as deposits must be made payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. Cash deposits will not be accepted. Address W. C. Reynolds, assistant director of procurement, Public Works Branch, Washington.

It is expected the Bay St. Louis postoffice will be built for this summer. No figures as to cost are available just now. However, it is stated, some seventy-odd thousand dollars were appropriated for the project.

Johnny Detroit and Orchestra To Play at Uncle Charlie's Club

New Year Eve party at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club proved more than ordinarily successful. The patronage was the best yet. Guests were there from all sections of the Gulf Coast and interior territory. The entertainment was highly interesting and dancing continued until the morning hours to the strains of Carron's Orchestra.

After this Saturday night, however, there will be a change for a few weeks. Johnny Detroit's Orchestra, formerly with the Blue Room, Roosevelt Hotel, New Orleans, will play an engagement for Uncle Charlie. Later, finishing a special engagement elsewhere Carron's well known orchestra will return to Uncle Charlie's.

Continued increase in patronage proves Uncle Charlie's Club to be popular and a place where the best like to go. Every effort is exerted to make it the best and this has long ago been manifested from every angle. Uncle Charlie's is opened every Saturday evening and ladies and gentlemen are invited to gather and spend the time in pleasure.

Johnny Detroit and his orchestra are famed and he is quite a "hit" and a bit of Uncle Charlie's enterprise to have the musicians come to Bay St. Louis.

MRS. ANNIE RESTER RESIDENT OF LEETOWN PASSES AWAY, AGED 72

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Rester, widow of James Rester, who died at her home at Leetown Sunday morning, after a long illness, took place Monday morning, 10 o'clock, services held in Caesar Baptist church, with Rev. S. P. Powell, pastor, the Rev. O. P. Estes, of Bogalusa, La., and the Rev. Eugene C. Pigott of Caesar officiating. The funeral was largely attended, neighbors and friends from various parts of Hancock and Pearl River counties attending, yet testifying to the high esteem in which she was held.

She had been a member of Caesar church for more than 50 years. She leaves the following sons and daughters: John Rester, Route 1, Picayune, Harvey Rester, New Orleans; Travis Rester, Mobile, Ala.; Otho Rester, Route 1, Picayune; Robert Rester, Bogalusa, La.; Hubert Rester, Poplarville; Mrs. R. W. Lee, Mrs. Luther Lee and Mrs. Ruby Neale, all of Route 1, Picayune. There are also surviving grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, one brother, Charles, and these and other relatives. The Echo offers its deepest sympathy. Recent death of Mr. Rester and now the passing away of his good wife removes from Hancock county two of its best and more representative citizens and the loss to this section is deplored.

BIRTHDAY BALL FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN BAY ST. LOUIS, JAN. 30

To Take Place at Local Nite Club Ball Room—Over 5000
Similar Affairs Planned Over United States—50c Cents
Of Every Dollar to Go to Local Children.

Proper medical and orthopedic treatment is to be brought to sufferers from infantile paralysis in every state with the proceeds of a series of benefit parties to be held throughout the country in honor of President Roosevelt's next birthday, it was announced by Henry L. Doherty, chairman of the national committee of the 1935 Birthday Ball for the President. The President's birthday comes on January 30.

More than 5,600 balls have been planned in communities where they were held last year, Mr. Doherty said, and hundreds of new localities are eager to join the fight on the disease. He expressed confidence that this year's results will greatly exceed the $1,000,000 raised last year as an endowment for the Warm Springs Foundation for infantile paralysis.

Bay St. Louis last year joined with Pass Christian on the occasion, but this year this community is going to have its own "President's Ball."

Henry L. Doherty, chairman of the National Committee of the 1935 Birthday Ball for the President, has appointed Chas. C. Moreau chairman for Hancock county, who will work with the following-named committee for the success of the ball: Mayor G. Y. Blaize, Leo W. Seal, Walter J. Gex, Jr., C. A. Breath, Sr., George E. Pitcher and M. J. J. J.

Mr. Breath has generously donated the use of his beautiful night club premises for the occasion.

Prices of admission 75 cents for gentlemen and 25 cents for ladies, or, in other words, a dollar per couple.

At President Roosevelt's suggestion and endorsing a recommendation of the trustees of the Warm Springs Foundation, no part of this year's funds will go to the foundation. Seventy cents of every dollar raised is to be used for the rehabilitation of handicapped children within the community raising the fund or within the nearest geographic unit of which the community is a part. The other 30 cents will be turned over to a national committee appointed by him for widening the research efforts aimed at wiping out the disease.

On the night of the celebrations President Roosevelt will make a radio address that will be heard at the various parties. It will be broadcast over the combined networks of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System. The program will begin at 11:30 p. m. Eastern standard time and continue until 12:30 a. m.

This is a patriotic and humanitarian gesture and it is hardly necessary to urge the public from Bay St. Louis and Hancock county territory to participate and lend every effort possible.

The day and date: Wednesday, January 30. The Echo will have more to say on the subject in its next issue. Other committees are to be appointed.

MERIDIAN TO BE HOST MAY 3RD AND 4TH TO STATE BAND CONTEST

Numbers For Contest Announced by Chairman of Mississippi High School
Band Committee

Mr. Frank B. Brown, superintendent of Gulfport city schools, who is Chairman of the Mississippi State High School and Committee announced last week that the annual state high school band contest will be held in Meridian, May 3 and 4. He also announced the following numbers for the contest.

The required number for Class A bands is "Overture, Ray Blas," by Mendelssohn, arranged by Tobani. The number for Class B is "Prelude to Faust," by Charles Gounard, arranged by Richard L. Halle. Class C—"The Oracle, Overture," by Otho Taylor, arranged by Charles J. Roberts, published by Carl Fisher. Class D—"On the Volga, Overture," by Alkaimento.

Meridian will be the host to 1000 and more contestants in the various events. They are to be given free lodging and breakfast by the people of Meridian, and plans are already being formulated to make the event the best ever held.

The committee adopted a regulation requiring all bands entering the contest to participate in the marching contest and this will be a special

CARNIVAL BALL FOR YEAR 1935

Preparing For Second Annual Carnival Event at St. Joseph Gym, Bay
City

Encouraged by the marked success of the first annual Carnival ball, given last year at St. Joseph Gym, by and under auspices of the St. Joseph Academy Parents' Club, when King Louis and Queen Marie ruled over a brilliant court and received a large audience, already preparations are in the making for this year's similar event, to take place at St. Joseph Gym, Thursday evening, February 28—the Thursday before Carnival.

First meeting in preparation of this Carnival event has been called for Wednesday, January 16—next week. This work will be carried out not as a private affair but one of civic interest and pride and citizens of Bay St. Louis and surrounding territory are asked to join and make the affair one well worth the while. Every other place has some event for the season and Bay St. Louis certainly must not be the exception. We plan to make this year's ball better and larger than last year's. Said one of the executives to The Echo, "and we can only do this with the co-operation of the public. We can accomplish nothing without a whole-hearted aid."

A new king and queen will be selected in due time. Of course, this will be a profound secret, which will make the ball all the more interesting.

BRADLEY'S TO OPEN THURSDAY EVENING OF THIS WEEK, 10TH.

Re-Opens For Winter Season Following Interior
Renovation—Menu
Prices Reduced

Bradley's beautiful night club on the O. S. T. at Henderson Point, re-opens on Thursday night of this week, after being closed part of the season following the early fall.

The occasion will be one of more than ordinary anticipation and the number of reservations, we are told, exceeds the number hoped for. An orchestra of unusual merit is contracted for and devotees of the dance will be delighted with the music.

Under new arrangement, there will be a slight cover charge, and prices on the menu card have been slashed. For instance, a sandwich costing 40 cents last season is now 15 cents; coca-cola formerly 25 cents now 10 cents and proportionately reduced down the line. Quality will remain high grade.

It is planned, to make Bradley's popular without sacrificing the high character of the place. It is one of the de luxe resorts on the Coast and warrants liberal patronage.

General Charities Association to Meet, Thursday, January 17.

SON VISITS MOTHER AFTER ELEVEN YEARS ABSENCE ON SEAS

G. C. McCrackan, State St.,
Visits Home and Family—
Makes 15 Trips Around
World

A very joyous Christmas was spent at the home of Mrs. G. C. McCrackan of 112 State street. Her greatest joy and happiness was brought through her son's return, Mr. Andrew McCrackan, an only son. Mr. McCrackan has been absent for 11 years; he was employed on the S. S. President Garfield of Dollar Line. He has made fifteen trips around the world and came home via Los Angeles, California.

To make the day complete, his sisters, Mrs. Ogle Cogburn, of Memphis and Mrs. Daniel Buechner of New Orleans, with Mrs. Ethel Sanford and children, Ruth, Jack and Oro Lee, of Bay St. Louis, made a happy reunion.

When asked how she spent the Christmas celebration, Mrs. McCrackan replied, "I have had one of the happiest days I have ever spent, because my son came home and I had all of my children with me."

Mrs. Cogburn returned to her home last Thursday in Memphis, and Mrs. Buechner returned to her home in New Orleans last Sunday.

Mr. Andrew McCrackan with his sister, Mrs. Ethel Sanford, Miss Vanda Mae Middleton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pringle of Bay St. Louis motored to New Orleans Monday remaining over for New Year's. Mr. McCrackan remained in New Orleans visiting friends and relatives while the other members of the party returned Tuesday night. All reported a happy trip.

Progress of Troop 217

A few weeks ago each of the three patrols had a play. Bill Gordon's patrol had a minstrel. Tommy Gordon's patrol had a play showing that crime doesn't pay. Fred Fayard's patrol had play showing what to do in case a person's clothes catch on fire.

The troop is going to give a play in about two months. The name of play is "After Dark." The director is Mr. Gordon.

Two weeks ago some of the boys in the troop put on boxing bouts. There were seven in all.

BAY MUNICIPAL BAND HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION OFFICERS

Fred Herlihy Re-Elected
President—C. A. Breath,
Jr., Re-Elected Mgr.

Part of the regular Tuesday evening Bay St. Louis band practice was given over to the election of officers for the ensuing year. Officers of the past year were introduced to the new members and a motion was carried that election should immediately follow.

Fred Herlihy was re-elected president, Jennie di Benedetto, vice-president and C. J. Gordon, in a close race with his other three opponents, secretary-treasurer.

The Board of Directors remains the same. C. A. Breath, Jr., was unanimously re-elected band master.

Brief talks were made by each of the newly-elected officers. Professor Harold F. Ramsay, director asked that a committee be appointed to help prepare for the annual minstrel for the benefit of the band. The following were appointed: Uncle Charlie Breath, C. J. Gordon, C. A. Breath, Tommy Lawson and Osmond Blaize, Mary Di Benedetto. The committee met after the meeting adjourned. It was decided after short discussion that the committee would meet again next Tuesday when the plans will again be discussed.

Benefit Dance For Hospital to Be Given on St. Valentine's Day

St. Valentine's Day, Thursday, February 14, will be observed in Bay St. Louis with a benefit dance, under auspices Bay King's Daughters and Sons and directed by officers of this organization.

Mr. C. A. Breath, Sr., director of Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, has generously donated the use of his splendid place for the occasion and there is no apparent reason, the cause considered, why the benefit should not exceed fondest expectations by the promoters.

Public patronage solicited. The public is asked to remember the day—St. Valentine's. The time, February 14. The place, Uncle Charlie's.

Blifkin—"Yes, that would account for all the puddles in the road."

CITY COMMISSIONERS FAVOR BUILDING LOCAL LIGHT AND POWER PLANT

Failure to Get Reduced Rate From Mississippi Power
Company, at Expiration of Contract, Causes
Action—Resolution Adopted

Contract of City of Bay St. Louis to supply power and light for a period of five years, expired January 1, and the city's inability to reach an agreement with the Mississippi Power Company, Commissioners Perkins and Bourgeois have voted to appoint a committee of one to ascertain data and find approximate cost of the city owning its own light plant. They claim the city is paying too much for service and that tax-payers must be protected.

The resolution says that "the Federal Government has offered to all municipalities a very attractive opportunity to establish their own power and light plants under most favorable conditions." This issue is one of direct interest and concerns every tax-payer in Bay St. Louis.

Resolutions adopted are very emphatic and leave no room for misunderstanding. Copy of same is hereby officially promulgated:

Motion of H. Grady Perkins, Commissioner of Public Utilities, duly seconded by W. L. Bourgeois, Commissioner of Finance that the following resolution be read, considered and finally passed and adopted:

Whereas, by resolution previously passed and adopted by this Board requesting the Mississippi Power Company to send a representative to appear before this Board to show cause why the power and light rates in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, should not be reduced, and

Whereas the Mississippi Power Company did send their representative and he being present at this meeting and has advised this Board that it is not possible for the Mississippi Power Company, at this time, to reduce or eliminate the line charge to the City of reduce the power rates as now charged by the Mississippi Power under the present contract, and

Whereas, it is the desire of this Board to secure a reduction of power and light rates to all consumers thereof, and

Whereas, this Board has been tendered attractive proposition from manufacturers of electrical power and light equipment for the establishing of a municipal power and light plant in Bay St. Louis, and

Whereas, the Federal Government has offered to all municipalities a very attractive opportunity to establish their own power and light plants under most favorable condition and terms, and

Whereas, it is the desire of this Board to secure all information, data, and cost under a survey without cost to the City, relative to the establishment of a Municipal power and light plant in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, and to further determine whether or not said municipality owned power and light plant would reduce all power and light rates to all consumers thereof and to the City of Bay St. Louis proper,

Now, Therefore be it resolved and ordered, that the Board of Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, appoint one of its members to secure all information, data and cost by and through a complete survey to determine the feasibility of establishing a municipal light and power plant in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Be it further resolved and ordered, that the Clerk of this Board be and he is hereby authorized and directed to publish in the Sea Coast Echo, the official City Journal, a copy of this resolution to thereby advise the Citizens of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the Board actions and efforts to secure power and light reductions for all consumers thereof and to further advise them of its actions in determining if possible the feasibility of a Municipal light and power plant for the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

MARSHALL BALLARD, JR., OF BAY ST. LOUIS, WINS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Son of Local Residents, Graduate Stanislaus '29 and From Tulane University, '33.

"CICERO STEPS OUT," TITLE OF PLAY TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

Local Talent to Present
Comedy—Benefit Central School P. T. A.

People of Bay St. Louis, both old and young, will forget their troubles—dull care will fly out the window when "Cicero Steps Out." This is the promise of the Bay Central P. T. A., who plan to present this hilarious two-act musical comedy at the Bay Central school auditorium, Tuesday evening, January 15th at 8 o'clock.

Regardless of the type of entertainment you prefer, "Cicero Steps Out" will strike a new note and bring an entirely different attitude toward amateur theatrical performances, here. It is not just another "home talent play," but a delightfully written, artistically staged, production introducing 10 characters, besides a well-trained chorus of 24 attractive girls, whose performances, introducing a number of the latest song hits, will amaze, amuse, and delight you.

There will also be two choruses of grammar school children.

"Cicero Steps Out," is packed with thrilling speed from start to finish. An intimate knowledge of the defects of the average "home talent play" brought about the request for something different, something which would not only lend itself readily to amateur production, but stand out as the entertainment, high light of the year. And "Cicero Steps Out" was the result.

After you have forgotten lesser entertainments you will remember Cicero, Miss McWhiffle, Dr. Bohunkus, Charles Simpson, and the many other characters.

The play is being directed by Miss Clyde Tabor of Perry, Georgia. The admission is only 15 and 25 cents. So you can't afford to miss it.

The committees in charge of the entertainments are: Mrs. James A. Evans, general chairman; publicity, Mrs. Roland Weston, Mrs. Gus Terry, and Mrs. Rosso; stage properties, Mrs. Leo Seal; tickets, Mrs. Theodore Robin, Mrs. Harold Weston and Mrs. C. M. Weeks. Mrs. Carl Smith will have charge of the music.

Cast of Characters:

Cicero Socrates Smith, Janitor by necessity—Dr. Jas. A. Evans.
Prudence McWhiffle—calisthenic teacher—Mary Perkins.
Charles S. Smith—professor by proxy—C. J. Gordon.
Polly Stanton—Charlie's inspiration—Effie Graham Power.
Ruth Rypley—Polly's roommate—Yvonne Lacoste.
Dr. Henry Bohunkus, a know-it-all—C. M. Weeks.
Mrs. Bohunkus—the doctor's 'better half—Mrs. Fred Wright.
Simson—a supposed to be butler—M. Bardon.
Dora—who has trouble with her speech—Hona Ansley.
Peter—devoted to Dora—Durante Da Ponte.

Chorus Ensemble

Rosemary Piazza, Ruth Gray, Anna Lee Sanford, Anna May Benigno, Yvonne Duafu, Mary Leigh Weston, Betty Osinach.
Girls—Elna Nelson, Bertha Irene Koch, Marilyn Peairs, Doris Arnold, Alice Vivian Evans, Lyndall Daponte, Lois Wright, Louise Hitzmann, Rose Anne Moore, Margie Heitzmann, Mary McDonald, Kittridge, Edith Griffith, Lucy Weston, Ruth Sanford Heen Biehl.

Boys—Billy Osbourne, Joe Kellar, Chandler Boswell, Larry Boswell, Martin Blanchard, Ogden Paredes, Chapman Marshall, Bert Estapa, Thos O'Neill, Steele Ansley, Harlan Wright, Londo Goldman, Joseph January, Bertrand Capdepon, Mark Solomon.

No Merger

"I hear their engagement is broken off through a misunderstanding."

"Yes, he understood she had money and she understood he had."

Exchange.

Bay St. Louis and friends in general of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ballard are justly proud of the achievement recorded by the press Tuesday morning to the effect that their son, Marshall, was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship along with Richard J. Carpenter, of Oklahoma, R. Cannon Clements, of Lubbock, Texas, and Gaston Williamson, of Monticello, Ark., by the Sixth District examining committee at New Orleans Monday. The four will go to Oxford University, England, for two years with an allowance of 400 pounds (about $2,000) each.

Other candidates taking the examination, which embraces the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, were: Richard A. Ballinger Hearne, Texas; Alfred Wellborn, Jr., Baton Rouge, La.; Walter Moffatt, Jr., Monticello, Ark.; Maurice Jones, Gretna, Miss.; Rodney M. Blaine, Tupelo, Miss.; Silas C. Garrett, Ala.; Croom Beatty, Ala.; and Lawrence D. Reedy, Okla.

Young Ballard and his student friends will not leave for England until the fall, when they will enter Oxford for the course of study made possible, free of expense, by the benefaction of Rhodes, of diamond fame and fortune amassed from mining operations in South Africa.

The success of young Ballard is not a matter of luck but a story of study and perseverance. He attended St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, graduating Class '29.

Mr. Ballard graduated from Tulane with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1933. He served as graduate instructor in Tulane in the past year 1933-34 and during the past year has been studying industrial chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Boston. He was home only a short time since, visiting parents and Bay St. Louis and New Orleans friends for the holidays. The Rhodes scholarship is a prize worth while and goes only to the worthy, to those who have been tested and found equal to severe demands.

Marshall Ballard, Jr. is to be congratulated and friends will watch his career from time to time with renewed interest. If wishing one success carries then he will have plenty of that essential which means for life. It is expected he will leave here for Europe during October of this year.

S. H. DEDEAUX AGAIN LESSEE OF PINE HILLS GOLF COURSE ON BAY

Thorough Renovation of Links—Preparation for
New Year and Season

S. H. Dedeaux, who, heretofore as lessee has conducted Pine Hills golf course, one of the best South, has again leased the place and is actively engaged with a force of men in better conditioning the greens for early spring and putting the place in a general rehabilitation. When completed, states Mr. Dedeaux, the links will have an entirely different appearance and every further convenience will be considered and attended to.

Pine Hills has been pronounced time and again by knowing minds and people who play professional golf to be the finest golf links hereabouts, in fact, South, barring none. That the property is to be continued under the management of Mr. Dedeaux and as such is indeed gratifying to note. Pine Hills is quite an attraction and acquisition to this section. Not only many people take advantage of the links but our own people get a great deal from the place.

Tournaments will be the order of things in the near future.

HAUPTMAN CASE HAS MANY ANGLES

BECAUSE of the prominence of the parents no case in court attracts more attention than that of Hauptman, charged with kidnapping and murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., in progress this week at Flemington, N. J. As the trial continues from day to day the defense seems to be bolstering their case in a manner that leaves a reasonable doubt that Hauptman is guilty. While the evidence is damaging and seemingly incontrovertible, it is mainly circumstantial.

Counsel for the defense promises to tell and prove on the stand Thursday, the names of four parties guilty of the crime. Attorney Reilly, chief counsel, says he will not only tell the names of the four guilty parties but that he will also prove the job was an inside one; that the baby was never taken out and down through a window and by means of a ladder, but down the inside stairway.

This revelation is somewhat startling in view of all the circumstantial evidence and somewhat startling discoveries that have been made. It seems it would save useless effort, ordeal and expense to both sides if that information could be given now rather than Thursday. If the defense fails in this promised last-minute revelation it will be curtains for Hauptman. All will be off. If the matter was not one of such serious nature and to say nothing of the anguish of the parents, the concern of the public, it would be a matter of jest. We remember the goose chases of father and friends, the newspaper messages signed by one Jafie, and other incidents while the quest was on that proved nothing less than ridiculous.

Of course, someone or others spirited the baby away; someone killed it and party or parties are guilty, but the matter has so many comical angles, besides the serious being, that it appears the case is not going to be concluded as indicated all the way until very recently. Of course, it is to be hoped the guilty will be ferreted and punished to the very limit of the law. One must await further development before an opinion may be expressed or intelligently interpreted. Possibly the case might have its conclusion before this paper is distributed. Whatever way it may be will prove interesting and a world-wide audience will either learn of a climax or collapse.

DOES THE OUT-OF-TOWN PRINTER PATRONIZE LOCAL MERCHANT?

E. J. ADAM, nestor of the Mississippi Coast press, who conducts a column of news and wisdom in the Pass Christian Beacon, says, "Consumers must not expect the dealers to do more than their part in keeping trade at home. The consumers should do their part also by patronizing local dealers. Try this policy for building up home business for 1935." It strikes The Echo this is a matter for mutual consideration. There are two angles to this situation. Just as the local merchant patronizes an out-of-town printing concern because a quotation happens to be lower. Mr. Business man, did you ever consider or ask yourself the question, "How much business do I get from the out-of-town printer?" The reply is easy. Not one cent. And how much does the local printer and employees and their respective families buy at home? This question answers itself.

KEEP MONEY IN BAY ST. LOUIS

There is enough money in Bay St. Louis to serve the commercial needs of all our people. Turned over fast enough, and passed from one citizen to the other, there is enough to make all our people prosperous.

Every time a dollar kisses this community good-bye it goes to help the prosperity of other sections. While some of our coin has to go, there are many occasions when the money could stay in Bay St. Louis with equal benefit to the spender and positive profit to the merchants here, who depend upon the local market for support.

Outside firms do not contribute to our charities, neither do they employ our unemployed. If the people of this town will only make up their minds to be loyal to Bay St. Louis in spending their money it will mean a greater future for us all.

The month of the year is a good time to see that your subscription to The Sea Coast Echo is paid in advance for the full year.

Advertising in The Echo performs no miracles; you must have the goods and the correct prices if you expect to sell merchandise.

Now that every reader of The Sea Coast Echo has reviewed what happened in 1934, it might pay us to give an equal amount of time to the contemplation of what is ahead of us in 1935.

Reading good books will be one way to make the best use of 1935 and the individual who reads this and resolves to carry out the idea will be entitled to one gold star for the good resolution.

ON THE OCCASION OF A BIRTHDAY

THE Sea Coast Echo celebrated a birthday Tuesday of this week. It was established January 9, 1892. And during the long span of forty years or more the files of this newspaper prove it has been a faithful chronicler of practically every event of import from year to year as time passed on and each year became another volume of history.

The Sea Coast Echo has a complete file in bound volumes of the history of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county. It is quite interesting to read these priceless copies covering so wide a span. In one issue we see a record of your birth, your christening, your graduation, your marriage, chronicle of your first born and others. And, as it must be, the inevitable has been chronicled. The passing away of some dear one, member of your family or friend, is also recorded in these columns. Happiness, joys and sadness alike have found lodgment in these newspapers of yesteryears. Your happiness, your triumphs are here recorded. The success of your children and no end of events are here for posterity.

We find The Echo has been a faithful chronicler. Fair and impartial free from malice and prejudice. Always that attitude of building rather than tearing down. Ours has been for news and a constructive policy.

To be successful in the prosecution of the best interest of Bay St. Louis this newspaper must accomplish the task of making money. To this end it relies upon two sources of revenue; subscriptions and advertising. The former from its readers and the latter from the business interests that find advertising in our columns profitable.

Newspaper publishers generally have found that to be financially successful their newspaper must meet the popular expectation that a newspaper is a servant of the general public. They must serve this master, although their revenue comes from individuals who sometimes expect undue and impossible favors.

In operating the Sea Coast Echo we have always tried to serve, to the limit of our ability, the real interests of Bay St. Louis. Sometimes, it has been hard to see clearly just what these were, but as best we could, we have gone forward toward the goal. At the same time, we have set ourselves the task of giving to subscribers a real newspaper, interesting to read for its local news and stimulating to read for its other features.

By so doing we have secured a certain reader-interest, which becomes automatically attached to advertisements in these columns. The advertiser buys this reader interest when he purchases space. It is of value, much more potent than the actual space that is purchased. It, too, has cost us money, just as real an expenditure as the physical printing of advertisements. The advertiser deserves the attention of our readers because his use of our columns, while a strict business investment, does help pay the cost of obtaining and holding reader interest, and makes our newspaper the more readable.

ABOUT BAY ST. LOUIS GROWTH

IN considering the advancement of Bay St. Louis, it is important that all of us realize that progress in a town or city may be made along other than material lines. After all, while money is quite an adjunct to modern life, no fixed amount seems necessary to promote the happiness of individuals or the well being of communities.

The need of proper facilities for the mental development of the children of Bay St. Louis is as vital as the necessity for new industries. The growth of the social group of Bay St. Louis along cultural lines is worth as much, perhaps as a few extra pay rolls. The opportunity for the development of the spiritual life of individual citizens as well as that of the community, should rank as high, in our estimation, as a marked increase in population figures.

With these thoughts the thinking people of Bay St. Louis are in agreement. However, they are not often as vociferous or as determined in securing what seems necessary to our general well being as are the advocates and proponents of specialized commercial activity. It is about time for us to realize that the industrial overgrowth of a community can be a calamity instead of a blessing.

HIGHWAY FROM MEMPHIS TO GULFPORT

THE Pass Christian Beacon "suggests that the best resolution the Mississippi Highway Commission can make at the beginning of 1935 is to complete a hard-surface highway from Memphis to the Mississippi Coast before the close of the New Year. No road work in this State would bring more benefits to the State—and no road work is more needed than such a highway in Mississippi." Failure to hard-surface a highway from Memphis down to the coast is responsible for failure of thousands of automobiles to travel southward to New Orleans and other points West to take different and probably longer routes. This highway is as important as the shortcut from New Orleans to the Coast. The Echo expects tremendous development in highway construction and of the important nothing is more appealing than the Memphis-Gulfport highway.

THE AUTO MAY KILL YOU, YET

IF THE present habits of people and automobiles continue one person out of each hundred in Bay St. Louis who reads this will die as the result of an automobile accident.

Maybe, the above sentence will make you realize exactly how dangerous the motor vehicle has become, and convince you that all automobile fatalities should be rigorously investigated.

More than that, every automobile collision should be recorded and drivers should be examined, licensed or otherwise prohibited from operating any automobiles.

THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

TO THE RIGHT—MARCH.

THE President has given the command. The Congress will obey. The overwhelming victory of the Democratic party and of its leader in the last election is evidently accepted as a mandate to proceed conservatively.

The president's message is general, except for two specific statements of policy. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration is to be discontinued. First, the rolls are to be purged of the unemployed, the old, the halt, the deaf and the blind. The government disclaims all responsibility for them, and leaves them to the care of the states and the local communities. That gets rid of about six million dependents. The president says a million and half, but he evidently does not count women and children, since he speaks of a total of only five millions, instead of nearly twenty.

New plans for insurance are to be presented later, but it is understood that these involve the gradual accumulation of reserves by means of premium payments. There is no hint as to how proposed plans will affect present unemployed.

The other definite proposal is a huge program of public works on a new and ideal plan, to be paid for by government borrowing. This program is to be discontinued as soon as private business absorbs the three and a half million of unemployed now on the relief rolls.

It may be well to restate the conservative and radical theories of economics in the light of this message. The key word, from this point of view, is "emergency." The plans look forward to a recovery from present abnormal conditions by the working of economic law. The depression is, therefore, a temporary condition. Business proceeds in cycles of depression, recovery, boom, crisis and depression again. We had notable crisis, followed by longer or shorter depressions, in 1837, 1857, 1893, 1907 and 1929, as well as others of lesser importance in other years. The present hard times have been a part of one of these cyclical movements, and we are again on the upgrade. Nobody can explain satisfactorily why these depressions come, or why they go, because there are so many factors involved that it is difficult to select the most important. All we know is that they are like the wind which bloweth where it listeth and thou hearest the sound thereof but canst not tell whence it cometh nor whither it goeth.

If all this is true, and very many people insist that it is, including almost all of the newspapers of the United States, Republican and Democratic, and many eminent professors of economics, then all we need to do is to set up insurance agencies to absorb the shocks caused by periodical crisis and by the customary ravages of time and accident, and to "prime the pump" of business recovery by generous expenditures for public works. Laws to correct abuses are, of course, always necessary, and the need for them becomes peculiarly apparent in times of depression, but such laws are really conservative, since their purpose is to avoid new evils and to preserve ancient good customs.

This conservative theory appeals very strongly to our emotions. We long ardently to remain in the good old ways that we have known all our lives, or, if we have suffered misfortune, to return to the good old days when we were prosperous and happy. We want to believe that this is possible, and we listen gladly to anyone who assures us that we can go back to the old home, the old job, the old friends and all that made them pleasant. That is natural conservatism.

The radical, no matter what his favorite remedy may be, denies that a return to the conditions of the past is impossible. He asserts that modern mechanical progress necessitates social and ethical progress also. Minor expedients are not sufficient. Widespread unemployment is not a temporary condition, but a necessary result of machine progress, unless we take very vigorous measures to balance consumption and production. Natural economic laws are unable to correct this lack of balance. This depression is something more than a part of a regular cyclical movement.

The President apparently rejects the radical theory entirely, and bases his plans on the conservative theses. For example, he prescribes that his public works shall stop as soon as private business has taken up the slack in employment.

You may believe either one of these doctrines that you wish, but you cannot prove it to anybody who disagrees with you any more than you can prove that the earth is a sphere to Voliva. You cannot do anything about it in any case, for the government is committed to the conservative opinions. We do not know what further recommendations will be made, or what Congress will do with them, but we may expect that there will be changes in detail, but none in fundamentals during the present years. Our personal reaction is amazement at the President's cheerfulness as he assumes the responsibility.

MORE GOOD NEWS

(Meridian Star)

A SURPLUS of nearly three million dollars—

The state of Mississippi faces the new year with abundant funds.

Credit for our sound financial status is due Governor "Mike" Conner, who despite depression, has "pulled us out of the hole" of pre-depression deficits.

Mississippi now ranks second in all the sisterhood of states in the value and marketability of bonds.

We have redeemed our credit.

We have raised our "paper" from "what'll-you-give" to well above the mark of par.

All honor to Governor "Mike" Conner.

To Tax Commissioner Alf Stone—and:

To the people of Mississippi who through sales taxes and other sacrifice have "paid the bill."

Apparently, we have set our Mississippi "house in order."

Glory enough for each and all of us.

THE WINTER'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

(Clarkeadea Register)

EVERYONE remembers the plan by which last winter a million dollars was raised to help the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation carry on its fight against infantile paralysis. President Roosevelt loaned his birthday for the occasion. There was a nation-wide series of birthday balls, the proceeds of which went into this fund.

The President's birthday on January 30 is to be again the occasion for a farflung multitude of benefit balls. There is to be this time a variation in the beneficiary which will undoubtedly commend itself to the country. At the suggestion of the President, reflecting a recommendation of the trustees of the Warm Springs Foundation, no part of the proceeds of this winter's balls will go to Warm Springs. Seventy per cent of the fund raised by each ball will go to the rehabilitation of handicapped children in the locality where the ball is given. The remaining 30 per cent will go into a reserve fund to be used in efforts to wipe out the disease of infantile paralysis itself. To such an object there should be no trouble at all to rally the country—to seeing to it that last year's million becomes this year at least twice that.

THE POWER "ISSUE"

(Meridian Star)

THE city of Jackson is all "hot-up" over a proposed bond issue of one million and one-half to erect a city power plant.

Both the Jackson papers are fighting the proposal.

The city administration is using every effort to put the bond proposal through.

Both sides are using "scads of space" in the advertising sections of the Jackson press.

At this distance, it appears that the investment of fifteen hundred thousand and Jackson public funds in the purchase of a power plant, constitutes at least a doubtful civic-business venture.

Public utilities are too important to be made the football of "mine-run" local politics.

Political management in main, is grossly inefficient.

Politics and business do not mix—save to the detriment of both.

Log-rolling, political pork, financial extravagance and wanton waste constitute the average result in general political concerns.

If the average private institution where operated, a la politics, the venture would be "broke" before the start.

However, with the coming of TVA, all central-southern municipalities must in time make up their minds as to acceptance or rejection of federal power opportunities.

All eastern Mississippi must shortly reach decision on this issue.

Whether the power interests like it or not, the TVA is coming.

Wisdom counsels "wait awhile" until the actual "arrival date."

In the present time of indecision, the old adage still holds true:

"Watch, wait and See."

AS TO MR. HAUPTMANN

(Meridian Star)

B RUNO Richard Hauptmann is on trial for his life. New Jersey charges that he not only abducted, but murdered the famous Lindbergh, Charles Augustus, Junior.

The defense declares that any one of many agencies may have "engineered" the "kidnap" and eventual tragedy.

From this distance, it appears that the state, in seeking conviction on the murder charge, may have "over-shot" the mark.

Assuming that, as Colonel Lindbergh says, the "voice" which accepted the $50,000 ransom payment, is the voice of Hauptmann—

Even so, acceptance of ransom may indicate one thing—

Murder may constitute another and a more heinous offense.

The nation and the world is watching the Lindbergh-Hauptmann court procedure.

The entire prosecution structure seems based in main on "circumstantial evidence."

Circumstances may appear at times convincing.

However, definite proof is more convincing still.

The jury will decide the guilt of innocence.

The court is presumably above the "clamor of the mob."

Unmoved by popular demand for "blood."

Revealing testimony will no doubt decide the fundamental facts.

The nation and the world await the

P.-T. A. Regional Meetings Most Successful Says Mrs. McDonald

The Regional Meetings seem to have been a great success.

The attendance, Mrs. McDonald states, was most gratifying; the total paid registration was 372, while the average registration at a state-wide convention is 150. The time and effort expended on the Regional Meetings will total, she says, far more than that involved in the single convention; but the number of members brought into close personal touch with each other, and with State and National officers, is sufficiently greater to justify the added work. This is especially true in consideration of fact that this work is performed by a greater number of local groups and individuals—the active, working member is the interested member, the one who will grow more valuable to the organization with each service rendered.

Then, too, says Mrs. McDonald, the Regional Meetings brought the programs before smaller groups, the largest total registration being less than 100, at Laurel. These smaller groups afford greater opportunity for individual participation, informal discussion, and jolly good-fellowship.

Editorially speaking, we are strong for the social advantages of Regional Meetings, as well as conventions. Members can do good work without these—they can! But as a rule, they will not!

Favorable comment has come from all over the State. Our National Field Secretary, Mrs. Roe, was most decidedly a "hit," and our State dignitaries have come in for their share of the praise. One Council Chairman writes to Mrs. McDonald, "Your group of five ladies could not be improved upon for radiating efficiency, understanding, and, withal, womanliness, in the groups you met. It is wonderful for you to be willing to leave home, subject yourselves to any accommodations, and keep smiling and poised. That is what it takes to put across such a program, and you did it."

Again editorially speaking, we attended the meeting at Laurel, making the trip in the same party with the ladies above mentioned, and we most heartily corroborate and emphasize the compliment. We learned much about Parent-Teacher work; we met many delightfully intelligent and cultured women; we were charmingly entertained; and we had a grand good time even if our car did have to be pushed through a flooded creek by a crew of stalwart college boys on the way home. It was worth the drenching; worth the time, the expense; and we look forward eagerly to more Regional Meetings in 1935.

verdict of the jury and the court. In the meantime, we may well preserve the well known "even keel."

To preserve our judgements in the premises—

"To see what we shall see!"

Founders' Day February 17 Commemorates PTA Organizations in 1897

Founders Day commemorates the organization, in Washington, D. C., on February 17-19th, 1897, of the National Congress of Mothers, since become the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The annual observance of this day honors the noble founders, Mrs. Theodore W. Bernie and Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, and also pays tribute to those who were associated with them. It sounds a clarion call, awakening and increasing interest and endeavor for the highest well-being of childhood.

Founders' Day Programs have been and can be made most attractive. Gifts are associated with birthday anniversaries, and the generous offering last year were appreciated by all who are interested in National extension work.

It has been said, "No school can be considered ideal that does not have connected with it a live Parent-Teacher Association." Likewise, no Parent-Teacher Association can be ideal, can realize its highest privileges, development, and usefulness, without the annual Founders' Day observance and its birthday gift for extension work.

Each year these programs improve in content and originality. May Mississippi Association, a comparative newcomer to the screen, makes a graceful bid to fame in the important role of Bella, mid-Victorian flirt.

Leo G. Carroll, and Fernand Munier, both well known actors, interpret the roles of the two specialists, Dr. Ford-Waterlow and Dr. Clayton. Ian Wolfe and Vernon Downing both play their respective roles of Bevan and Actavius with Katherine Cornell in the stage version of the play.

Peter Hobbes, Neville Clark, Matthew Smith, Robert Carleton and Allan Conrad, appear as the brothers.

Adapted by the talented Scenario writing team, Ernest Vajda and Claude West, dialogue by Donald Ogden Stewart, from the play by Rudolf Besier, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" stands as one of the outstanding theatrical hits of the decade. Katherine Cornell, who created the part in the New York theatre, recently climaxed one of the most successful road tours of her career with the piece.

Dramatization of a vivid page torn from history, it is the story of the love of two poets, Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning—a love nearly frustrated by her demonic father.

Love at First Sight

Elizabeth had resigned herself to a lingering death, when correspondence with the poet Browning suddenly materialized with his handsome presence in her own room. It was love at first sight between the fragile girl and her ardent admirer.

With all the spleen and cunning of his nature, the elder Barrett throws himself against this romance.

and thereon hangs the tale, interwoven with glimpses into the lives of the many brothers and sisters in the historical message.

William Daniels, who last photographed "Queen Christina," is responsible for the superlative photography evident in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

BLACK-DRAUGHT
For CONSTITUTION

"I am 71 years old and have used Black-Draught about forty years," writes Mr. W. J. Vanover of Roma, Ky. "We are never without it. It takes all the poisons out of my system. I am thinner, drier and have swimming in my head. Black-Draught relieves this, and helps me in many ways." Keep a package of this old, reliable, purely vegetable laxative in your home, and take it for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation.

Ambitious Film Co-Stars Norma Shearer, Fredric March, Charles Laughton

Three Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences Award winners head the cast of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," to be shown at the A. & G. Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

Norma Shearer, in the role of the poet, Elizabeth, is starred opposite Fredric March, as the ardent Robert Browning—the same team which broke all records in "Smilin' Thru." Charles Laughton, most recent Academy Award winner, appears in the grim and powerful role of the elder Barrett, his first American picture since his international hit, "Henry the Eighth."

Sidney Franklin, director of many of Miss Shearer's greatest successes, including "Smilin' Thru," was the genius behind the megaphone in filming the famous stage play.

The Supporting Cast

The supporting cast is equally extraordinary.

Maureen O'Sullivan, last seen in "Tarzan and His Mate," plays the rebellious sister Henrietta, enamored, in spite of her grim father's protestations, of the gallant Captain Cook, the part played by Ralph Forbes.

Una O'Connor—who scored heavily in her first American picture, "Cavalcade"—is the demure and faithful Wilson, Norma Shearer's maid.

Katherine Alexander, Broadway stage favorite, appears in her most important film part to date, that of Arabel, the poetess's repressed sister.

Marion Clayton, a comparative newcomer to the screen, makes a graceful bid to fame in the important role of Bella, mid-Victorian flirt.

Leo G. Carroll, and Fernand Munier, both well known actors, interpret the roles of the two specialists, Dr. Ford-Waterlow and Dr. Clayton.

MRS. CYRIL BOURGEOIS ANSWERS LAST CALL.

The silver cord has snapped and Mrs. Cyril Bourgeois has passed on to answer the last summons. She was a devoted wife and mother and the vacant chair in the fireside circle will mean an inveterate sad to her loved ones. It is hard for them to be comforted, but God will sustain them in their deep grief.

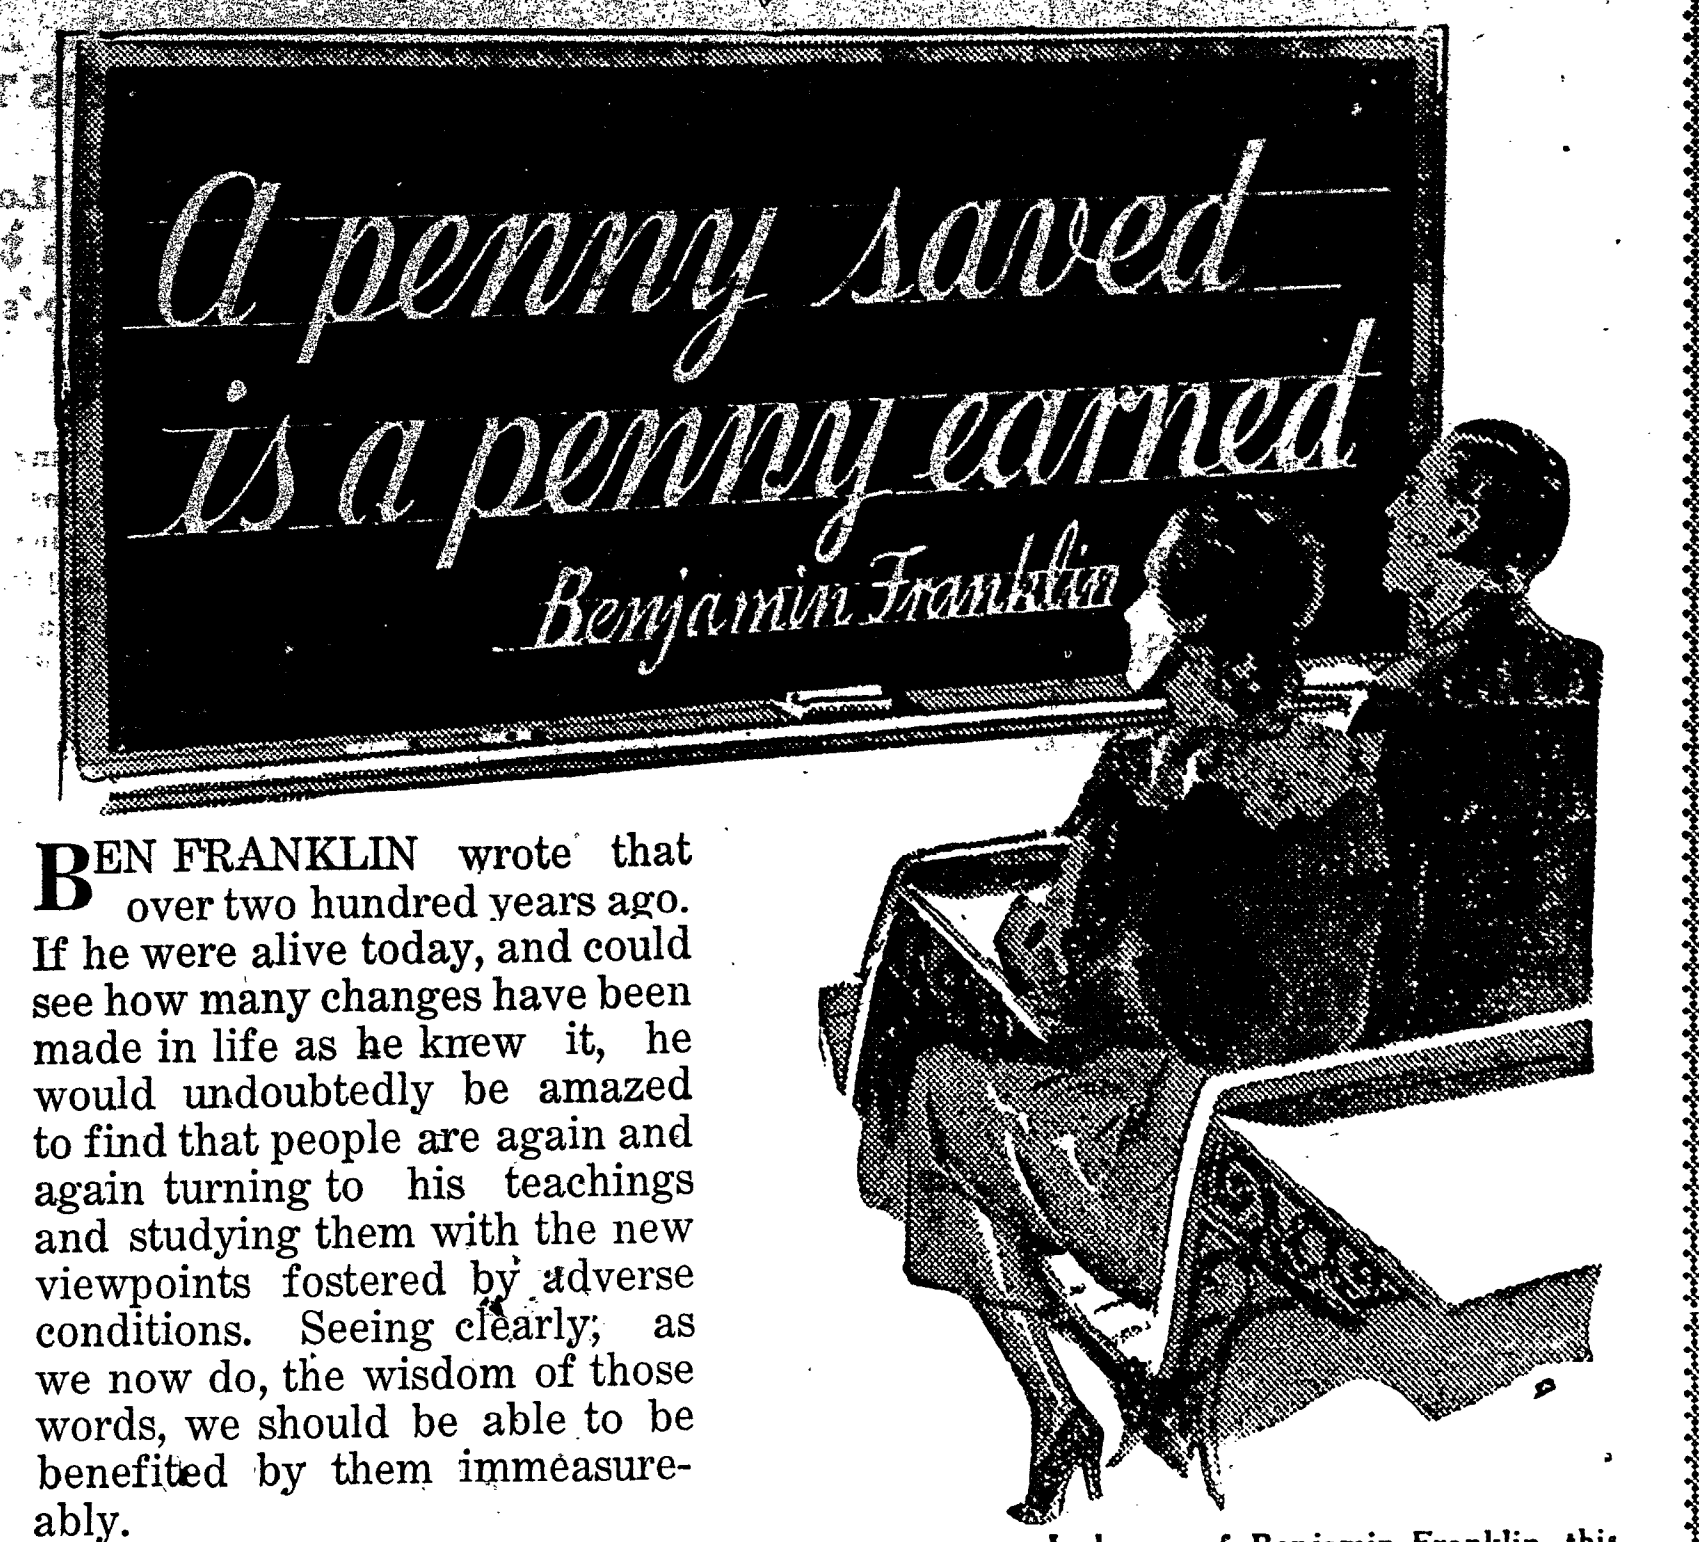

Her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ed. Zinser, of New Orleans and Mrs. Alma Slade, a granddaughter, Shirley Zinser, three brothers and two sisters survive her. We extend to the whole family our deep sympathy.

TRAGIC DEATH OF LITTLE BOY.

Little Ed Twoomey, son of Mrs. Leona Twoomey was killed by a truck in New Orleans on his way home from school. He was buried in Bay St. Louis, Sunday at 2 o'clock. His sudden death was a shock to the community and we wish to extend our sympathy to his mother and brothers.

W. F. Bond, State Superintendent of Education, feels certain that the schools of Mississippi will have federal allotment during 1935, and that the schools will all run the usual length of terms. He also feels confident, according to a recent statement, that another school building program will be conducted in the state during 1935 similar to the one conducted during 1934.

In the recent illiteracy program put on in Mississippi, W. F. Bond, State Superintendent of Education, states that Mississippi has been boosted from 4th to the bottom when both white and colored population is considered to 24th from the bottom, and as to whites only from 15th to the bottom to 16th from the top of the list of seats.

A penny saved is a penny earned
Benjamin Franklin

BEN FRANKLIN wrote that over two hundred years ago. If he were alive today, and could see how many changes have been made in life as he knew it, he would undoubtedly be amazed to find that people are again and again turning to his teachings and studying them with the new viewpoints fostered by adverse conditions. Seeing clearly, as we now do, the wisdom of those words, we should be able to be benefited by them immeasurably.

In honor of Benjamin Franklin, this bank is making a drive for new accounts. A dollar opens an account.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Rutherford moved into their new home during the holidays. Mrs. Rutherford left Wednesday morning for Pearl River College.

Mrs. Russell Davis of Picayune spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Miller.

Mrs. Anna McGeehee and daughter, Ruth, spent several days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Forest Wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wheat were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mitchell Sunday.—Picayune Item.

FORMER RESIDENT SHOOTSELF AT PICAYUNE HOTEL

John H. Long, Former Associate of Local Turpentine Company, Ends Life.

John H. Long, shot and killed himself at a Picayune hotel last week, declaring before he died that he was broke, and no money and had nothing to live for.

Mr. Long was well known here by older residents. He was associated in the turpentine industries with the late R. R. Perkins, and one time lived at the Hotel Pickwick and at another time lived at one of the two Perkins dwelling houses on North beach Boulevard. Mr. Long was well known and prosperous at the time. The downturn of business apparently brought his fortune to an end.

The Picayune Item publishes the following story of the tragic end of one of the finest men we ever knew. The news of his untimely death brings much regret.

Funeral services were conducted in McDonald Funeral Home at 2:30 Monday afternoon for John H. Long, who ended his life shortly after sundown Sunday by a self-inflicted pistol wound through his heart and left lung. The late rites were said by the Rev. R. K. Corder, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Picayune. Interment was in Palestine Cemetery.

Mr. Long, according to reports, was near the door of his room at the east end of the corridor on the second floor of Picayune Hotel, when he fired on himself. Hotel operators and guests, sitting in the lobby on the main floor heard the shot and thought it was a firecracker explosion until they heard Mr. Long's call for help. He ran down the corridor, almost to the stairway after shot was fired. He was taken back to his room. Dr. W. W. Hickman and Dr. N. W. Fountain were summoned for medical help, but he died within a half hour. The shooting occurred between 6 and 7 o'clock.

Mr. Long was asked by one of the attendants why he shot himself and is declared to have replied, "I'm broke. I have no money and nothing to live on."

A coroner's inquest was held with Police Justice H. K. McKee in charge. Members of the jury were: W. A. Kellar, W. A. Quick, R. D. Stockstill, H. F. Baham, H. T. Hancock and Frank Mitchell. After making thorough investigations the jury rendered a verdict of "death caused by self-inflicted pistol wound."

He was 63 years old and came to Mississippi from North Carolina during his early manhood. He was widely known in this section, having been engaged for a number of years in a turpentine business in Mississippi and Louisiana. He spent the last four years of his life here and operated a service station and lunch room adjoining the Picayune Hotel until two months ago, when he released it on account of ill health, it was said.

Mr. Long is survived by his son, John Long, who lived with him here at the Picayune Hotel. He is also survived by a wife and daughter in Oscilla, Ga.

If you listen to any man he can tell you many instances illustrating how smart he has been.

—Mr. D. C. Griffith is in Mobile on business this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tudary were called to New Orleans on New Year's day to visit their son, V. J. Tudary, who was operated upon at Hotel Dieu, and who is doing well.

—Mrs. F. J. Bopp, who has been quite ill with cold and fever is reported decidedly better and friends will gladly learn she is on the road to recovery and will within due time be up and out again in the sunshine.

—Misses Cora Griffith, Mildred Baker and Vanda Mae Middleton have resumed their studies at Women's College, Hattiesburg, after spending the holidays with their respective parents in Bay St. Louis, and friends as well.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Whitworth of New Orleans, who spent the past few years residing at Coronado Beach, Calif., have leased one of the Sick beach cottages and joined the colony of Bay St. Louis residents. Their son is a collegian at St. Stanislaus.

—Contractor Edw. Osbourne has about finished construction of the Sunday School annex building to the Main Street Methodist church. The brick work is that of H. Wilbur Driver, master workman in his trade. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy within the next fifteen days.

—Mrs. L. Spurl of New Orleans came out for the day Sunday and visited at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Staehle. Mr. Arthur Conway of New Orleans was also a guest at the Staehle home. Mrs. Spurl is a frequent visitor to Bay St. Louis, where she has many friends.

—Reports from the bedside of Forest Favre, at Hotel Dieu, brother of Clerk of the Courts A. G. Favre, are to the effect the patient is recovering nicely, following an emergency operation last week for appendicitis.

—Mrs. A. Claverie has returned to her home in New Orleans, after spending the holidays visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carriere and family. Mrs. Claverie's grand-daughter, Miss Louise Carriere, who has been visiting friends in Sheboygan, Wis., is at present visiting in Chicago and at Notre Dame, Ind., planning to be home shortly.

—Mr. Peter Chiniche announces the forthcoming marriage of his sister, May, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. Chiniche to Mr. Russell Russo, son of Frank Russo, both of Bay St. Louis, the event to take place on Sunday, January 27, 1935, 4 o'clock, at Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Kenney have gone to New Orleans where they are spending the latter part of the week to attend the various performances of season of opera, a series of performances presented by San Carlos Opera Company, celebrating its silver anniversary of twenty-five years of successful operations. Quite a number of Bay St. Louis music lovers will attend the performances.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr, of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, who spend part of the winters on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, have arrived for the season and taken a cottage at Long Beach. Mr. Carr is a nationally-known golf pro and is seen frequently on the links at Pine Hills. He is well acquainted and counts many of his friends from Bay St. Louis.

CLUB SURPRISES MRS. BARKER

Members of the Ever-Welcome Club surprised Mrs. Barker with a handkerchief shower at their last meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Davis. Quite a number were present, and all expressed their sorrow in losing Mrs. Barker, one of the most faithful and best-loved members. Mr. and Mrs. Barker and family are moving to Ocean Springs, and though we hate to see them go we hope they will like their new home, and we wish them well.

Refreshments for the afternoon consisted of baked apples with whip cream, delicious cake and cocoa. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Gene Joyner on Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

PASS CHRISTIAN BOY WINS PRIZE FOR BEST DECORATED XMAS TREE

Son of Owners of Loraine Flower Shop Wins $10, Miss. Power Co.'s Prize

John Robin Adams, young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Adams, owners and operators of the Loraine Flower Shops at Pass Christian and Gulfport, and who resides in Davis avenue, at the Pass, won not only distinction during the holidays but $10.00 in cash as well, the latter donated for the best lighted living Christmas tree in the Coastwide contest.

The three trees, each winning first place in its respective town, which competed for first place were John Robin Adams, Pass Christian; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McNeal, Gulfport and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ragusin, of Biloxi. John Robin also won first prize for the best decorated tree in Pass Christian, which was to be a plant, but as John Robin is well supplied with plants (Mr. and Mrs. Adams own Loraine Flower Shops) it is presumed the prize will be something else. John Robin says he has "plenty plants." The contest was successful from every aspect and the reward of the prize to young Adams it is unanimously acclaimed, was well deserved. The lighted decorations were different from the old traditional of various color lights.

First Dance For New Year at CCC Camp This Friday Evening

The boys of Company 1484, CCC Camp at Kiln, this county, announce their special event of the new year, to take place this Friday evening, 8 o'clock, at the camp.

Music will be furnished by Louis Carron Orchestra. Young ladies planning to attend will assemble at residence of Mrs. W. S. Speer, Main street, 7 o'clock sharp. Trucks will have Bay St. Louis at 7:15 o'clock.

These events during the past year have proven of most enjoyable character and this one, for the New Year, will not prove the exception.

OFF TO JOIN HUSBAND

Mrs. W. L. Jones, formerly Miss Elsie Luke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Luke, and a recent bride, left last week for Daytona Beach, Florida, to join her husband, who is a member of one of the more popular orchestras in the beautiful Florida city. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Daytona Beach for the present moving later to Georgia to make their home. Mrs. Jones has been a member of the local P. E. R. A. office force for the past two years, and has the best wishes of her many local friends.

MRS. DAVIS ENTERTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis entertained, quite informally, a number of their friends Tuesday night. Several card games were carried on with far more than skill. The refreshments were even more delicious than usual. It was an unusually enjoyable occasion, and the guests departed reluctantly, after making a resolution to have these "get-together" meetings oftener.

—Messrs. C. C. McDonald and Bill Wells, local golf enthusiasts, motored to New Orleans Sunday for the day and to witness the match game between "Bobby" Jones, former golf king, with New Orleans golfers at Metairie Country Club. Daily press records the fact that this attraction drew a record-breaking crowd and the meeting of local players with the champion was an event worthy of the attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bryan returned home from New York City Sunday morning, after an absence of over two weeks, spending the holidays in the metropolis. On their way up they visited Mr. Bryan's two sisters at Greensboro, N. C. In New York they spent the New Year holidays, attending mid-night supper and celebration of the arrival of the New Year at the Waldorf-Astoria, with a party of friends. A fall of snow at that time gave the proper touch to the scene and atmosphere.

—Mr. George Seuzeneau, appointed last week to be station master at Bay St. Louis has received many messages of congratulations and best wishes. Mr. Seuzeneau has been connected with the L. & N. Co., for twenty-five consecutive years and earned his promotion. He is yet a young man with a bright future ahead. Bay St. Louis is always proud of its citizens who forge ahead and make good, well remembering, that "standing still is going backwards." One must always go forward to be successful.

—Mrs. A. F. Fournier, who is spending the winter at New Orleans, registered with her family at a local hotel, came out Monday for the day, mingling with friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Fournier presided Monday morning at the regular meeting of Bay St. Louis King's Daughters, of which she is president, and a most successful and enthusiastic worker. Additions planned for the hospital building, it was voted, to defer about three months. Opinion was divided on this however. Mrs. Fournier feels the urgent necessity of added rooms and sun porch for convalescents. Part of the funds are realized.

PASS CHRISTIAN BOY COUNCIL TAKES OATH OF OFFICE, JAN. 7TH.

Mayor Spence Retires After 18 Years' Consecutive Service—New Council Pays His Service Tribute

Dr. D. G. Rafferty, newly elected mayor, aldermen Joseph Wittmann, H. H. Hanson, P. A. McCollister, John Farrell and James B. Smith; Martin Farrell, city clerk, William McDonald, city marshal and Leo McDermott, city tax collector, were sworn in Tuesday, January 8.

Dr. J. H. Spence retired as mayor after 18 consecutive years in that office and seven additional years as an alderman. At a recess meeting of the outgoing council a resolution was unanimously adopted commending the service of the outgoing mayor. To all which Dr. Spence is entitled. He served his city and people well—consistently and conscientiously and is entitled to any and all praise that might come his way.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

DURING these days why not try some of these spaghetti, macaroni and noodle dishes? They are energy building and should be served often. Surprise your family with these tasty recipes.

Italian Spaghetti with Cheese

2 medium onions, sliced
1 diced seeded green pepper
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 No. 3 can tomatoes
2 tablespoons salt
1 9-ounce pkg. spaghetti
2 quarts boiling water.
Grated cheese
2 teaspoons sugar

Cook the sliced onions and diced green pepper in the oil until tender. Then add the tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt and the sugar. Cook slowly, uncovered until the tomatoes are a thick sauce. Meanwhile, cook the spaghetti until tender in boiling water to which 1 tablespoon of salt has been added. Drain, arrange on hot platter, and pour the sauce over it. Sprinkle with grated cheese and serve.

Meat and Macaroni Salad

2 cups sauerkraut, (canned)
1 cup diced raw carrots
2 cups macaroni, cooked
2 cups canned meat
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 cup celery, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon red pepper
½ cup diced cheese
Cook the spaghetti until tender and drain. Set aside to cool. Shortly before serving add remaining ingredients. Mix lightly. Serve on lettuce garnished with minced olives.

Emergency Noodles

½ lb. fine noodles
1 large onion, chopped fine
4 tablespoons melted fat
Grated cheese
Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain well. Fry onion in fat until a delicate brown and pour over noodles and sprinkle with grated cheese (Parmesan, Swiss, or American). Mix thoroughly. Serve with broiled steak and tomato salad.

Dinner Spaghetti

1½ cups spaghetti
1 lb. round steak
6 slices bacon
3 onions
1 can tomatoes
1½ cups grated cheese
2 tablespoons Chili sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt
1 teaspoon tabasco sauce
Have meat cut in cubes and cook until tender, keeping covered with water. Cook bacon then fry sliced onions in bacon fat until well done. Add tomatoes to onions and cook for 20 minutes, then add meat and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Add sauce and salt to taste. Cook spaghetti and put on hot platter. Pour meat and tomato mixture over it and sprinkle with grated cheese. Lay slice of cooked bacon on top.

CAPITOL ACTIVITIES

(By Walker Wood, Secretary of State)

MISSISSIPPI has four new members in the 74th Congress which is now in session, viz: United States Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, Congressman A. L. Ford, of Ackerman, representative from the 4th Congressional District; Hon. Aubert C. Dunn, of Meridian, of the 5th District; Hon. Dan R. McGeehee, of Meadville, of the 7th District.

The other members of the Mississippi delegation are: Hon. Pat Harrison, Senior U. S. Senator from Mississippi; Congressman John E. Rankin, First District, of Tupelo; Wall Doxey, Second District, of Holly Springs; Will M. Whittington, Third District, of Greenwood; and W. M. Colmer, Sixth District, of Pascagoula.

Hon. Marion D. Brett, of Marks, Quitman County, has been appointed as State Comptroller of Banks, by Governor Conner in compliance with the provisions of the Banking Law of 1934, Chapter 146, Laws of 1934. Mr. Brett succeeds in office Hon. J. S. Love, formerly designated as Superintendent of Banks, who has held that position for the past twelve years. Mr. Brett, the Comptroller, was the active vice-president of Citizens Bank Trust Company of Marks, and Treasurer of the Mississippi Bankers Association.

Secretary of State Walker Wood is now receiving the annual reports from the several sheriffs, chancery clerks and circuit clerks of the eighty-two counties of Mississippi, as the law provides. The law provides that said reports be made in triplicate and that each copy be sworn to.

According to the State Highway Commission projects put under contract during 1934 amounted to $6,376,457.27, which covered 392,404 miles of grading, draining, bridges, paving and graveling.

Mississippi's Farm Census work is now under way and 812 Mississippi census appointees having started on the task of ascertaining all material data with reference to agriculture in this State. Every kind of information will be secured by these enumerators, concerning farms and farming operators in Mississippi.

Some of the accomplishments of State Forestry Commission during 1934, according to State Forester Fred Merrill, are: Fire loss cut from $10,000,000 to $5,900,000, a state nursery has been maintained; a state forest for book has been prepared and adopted; the University of Mississippi—State Forest of 23,000 has been created; eleven C. C. Camps have been established; four new State Parks are under headway.

State Treasurer Lewis S. May states in a recent statement that Mississippi greeted the new year of 1935 with a thoroughly solvent treasury. This does not mean that the state is out of debt, but during 1934 there were enough revenues coming in to meet all of the state's obligations as they accrued, and in addition the state will pay off practically a million dollars worth of outstanding bonds.

Winter Memories
